U. S. Mountain Climber Loses Life When Ice Avalanche Gives Way

VANCOUVER—Mount Waddington, highest peak in B.C., has claimed one life in the party of nine United States mountain climbers. Charles Chevrick, of Cleveland, Ohio, well-known American alpinist, died on July 22 of punctured lungs which he suffered when an ice avalanche caught his party of four on Schmitzer Glacier in the rugged isolated B.C. Coast mountains about 150 miles north west of here.

His three companions, all slightly injured, buried his body in a gorge and struggled three miles back to the base camp. Five members were remaining in the area to continue their assault on Mount Waddington's peak.

INDIA BARS DUTCH FLIGHTS

NEW DELHI—Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Vice-President of India's interim government, announced today that India would press the Indonesian case before the United Nations, probably presenting it tomorrow morning and expecting support from certain other powers.

At the same time, Nehru announced that India "almost immediately" would bar Dutch aircraft landing on Indian airfields and flying over India.

TWO BURNED LOGGERS IMPROVING

CHILLIWACK—Plasma from the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic has given two badly burned loggers better odds in their fight for life in hospital here. The accident victims are 25-year-old E. McArthur and 32-year-old N. Cosulich who were in a critical condition Sunday but doctors said plasma injections "noticeably improved" their chances.

They were burned in a fire aboard the boom tug docked at the Silver Skagit Logging Company operations that threatened the dock where another tug caught fire.

MORE PRICE CEILINGS OFF IN FALL

CHATHAM, Ont.—D. A. Juvenville of Tilbury, Ont., member of the Ontario growers' delegation which recently visited Ottawa to discuss corn and soybean prices, said on Sunday, the prices board had assured that price ceilings on both crops will be removed by harvest time this year.

NEW SHORTENING; NO STALE BREAD

CHICAGO—A shortening to eliminate stale bread from grocers' shelves and housewives bread boxes was offered today to bakers. Its developers say it could save the United States more than 16,000,000 bushels of wheat a year.

COAST SAFECRACKERS GET $6,000

SECHLET, B.C.—Experts, who blew open the safe in the Union Estates store here early Sunday, made off with nearly $6,000 in cash, bonds, jewelry and personal effects.

1,100 JEWS TRY RUNNING BLOCKADE

HAIFA, Palestine—British naval forces escorted in Haifa Harbor today two small wooden vessels jammed with approximately 1,100 uncertified Jewish immigrants and immediately transferred most of them to waiting British ships for deportation to Cyprus. Both refugee ships were believed sponsored by the Haganah Jewish underground organization in a new campaign to smash British blockade barring Jewish immigrants to the Holy Land.

MOTHER OF 8 CHARGED IN SLAYING

PARRY SOUND, Ont.—A 33-year-old mother of eight children appears today before a justice of the peace and Crown Attorney A. G. Burbridge, who said she will be formally charged with murder in the slaying of her husband who was shot through the heart with a .22 calibre rifle in the kitchen of their log cabin home near South River, south of here.

IMMIGRANTS TO COME BY AIR

TORONTO—Ontario government officials made plans to welcome the vanguard of some 7,000 immigrants who will come to this province from Great Britain by air this year, with the first group taking off for the trans-Atlantic flight on August 2.

CRITICAL TEST EXPECTED SOON

LAKE SUCCESS—Consensus of delegates indicates that a far-reaching decision may come tomorrow on the Balkan problem and with it a test of the United Nations powers for effective action in peaceful settlement of disputes.

As the U.N. Security Council prepared to convene today, delegates said they anticipated a vote tomorrow or not later than Thursday on the American proposal to set up an international watch-dog commission over the Balkans.

DUTCH REPORT IMPORTANT SUCCESSES

BATAVIA, Java—Dutch military headquarters announced today sweeping new successes in eastern Sumatra, reporting the capture, virtually intact, of vital coal and oil regions more than 100 miles from the jumping-off point of Dutch troops at Palembang.

PARK GIVEN PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT

New Year's Eve Club Gives Two Giant-Strides For Use of Children

EXCESS PROCEEDS
Alderman O. L. Jones Accepts Gift on Behalf of City at Local Ceremony

Children's playgrounds in City Park last week were enhanced with the addition of two more pieces of equipment made possible through the courtesy of the clubs and organizations that made up the 1947 New Year's Eve Club. Two giant-strides were officially turned over to the city in a simple ceremony last Wednesday afternoon.

Ald. O. L. Jones, chairman of the park's committee, accepted the new equipment tendered by Jim Hume, Kinsmen president on behalf of the club. Ald. Jones, in thanking the donors, said, "This is one idea I hope will continue. Children will be delighted with these for years to come."

Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games also spoke briefly and paid tribute to the "youthful organizations which are contributing to the life of the city." Others present were members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Lions and Kinsmen.

Commerce, the Lions and Kinsmen. They were: Roy Hunt, president of the Jaycees; Dr. J. A. Rankine, Lions' president; Dr. Gordon Wilson, vice-president of the Kinsmen; Reg Foote, Art Jackson, Terry and Ken Harding and R. E. J. Hunt.

All three organizations have representation on the New Year's Eve Club. This year's dance was so successful that extra revenue was obtained. This money was used for the giant-strides.

JAYCEES HOLD SOCIAL NIGHT

Members of Organization Entertain Ladies at Dinner Held at Aquatic

The Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce members entertained their ladies at the organization's annual ladies' night which was held on Friday at the Aquatic Club. The evening consisted of a dinner, a scenic tour around the district as laid out by the Jaycees, and a dance.

Speeches were kept at a minimum, being a few words of welcome by President Roy Hunt, a toast to the ladies by Bob Knox and a reply by Mrs. C. E. R. Bazett. Miss V. Miller furnished piano music during the dinner. The dancers enjoyed Dunaway music until one a.m.

The only guests were His Worship the Mayor and Mrs. Hughes-Games, and R. P. MacLean, president of the Board of Trade, and Mrs. MacLean.

Donate Playground Equipment

Excess returns from the celebration of the New Year's Eve Club were put to use for the children of the city and district last week when two giant-strides were donated to the city park. City Rowers Score Big Upset By Taking B. C. Four-Oared Championship

BRITISH Columbia's rowing world is still humming with gossip and predicting other big things for the unheralded four of the Kelowna Rowing Club who entered the Vancouver Rowing Club Regatta and upset the dope for both Vancouver and Victoria teams to take the B.C. four-oared championship.

The win was almost as much a surprise to the modest Kelowna rowers as to the hundreds who lined the one-mile, 555-yard course at Coal Harbor and the additional thousands who did not attend the race but waited for the announcement of the winner. For the visiting four from the Orchard City had to completely revamp their rowing positions to do what they thought was the best of coping with a shell whose rigging was entirely different from their own in Kelowna.

Jimmy Stewart, who never stroked an important race in his life, moved to the stroke position and did a creditable job in holding the Kelowna four to their steady 34-36 strokes a minute. Riggers on the Vancouver shell allotted to Kelowna, necessitated Bob Wall, regular stroke, moving to third position, and Allan Marshall and Dave Leckie inter-changing, with Marshall moving up to the bow.

Kelowna took the lead from the start, but it was a close hot race all the way. The Orchard City boys were leading over Victoria by only one length at the half-way mark but were able to stretch it into a lead of about three lengths at the finish line. Disaster nearly overtook the winners at the half-way point when they came within inches of crashing into a submerged log.

NO OFFICIAL WORD ON U.K. APPLE DEAL

B.C. Tree Fruits' Head Says Nothing Finalized on Apple Shipments

STILL HOPEFUL

Okanagan Growers Will Probably Get Fair Share of Overseas Shipments

B.C. Tree Fruits' officials have received no official word that Nova Scotia will ship apples to the United Kingdom this year, but should any fruit be exported, it is probable that British Columbia growers will get their share of the market.

This statement was made by Roy Boothe, assistant sales manager of B.C. Tree Fruits this morning when asked to comment on the Canadian Press dispatch that the Annapolis Valley will be shipping apples to the United Kingdom this season. The statement was made in the Maritime by Major R. D. Sutton, chairman of the Nova Scotia Apple Marketing Board, Justice Minister Isley, returning to Ottawa after a visit to his constituency of Digby-Annapolis-Kings, also said the situation is not without hope.

It was originally believed that Britain would not take any apples this year because of the dollar shortage and the large English crop.

Seven new graders have been installed for the 1947 crop and eleven more are on order. Certain packing houses and cold storage equipment is still difficult to secure, but no pains are being spared to obtain it in time for the 1947 crop, it was stated.

SMALL CHILD DROWNED IN WATER DITCH

Two-Year-Old Daughter of Mrs. Mary Fast Found in Glenmore Irrigation Ditch

SECOND FATALITY

Body Discovered After Grandparents Searched For Over an Hour

Second drowning fatality of the year occurred shortly after 1 o'clock today, when Beatrice Fast, two-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mary Fast, Glenmore, was found submerged in an irrigation ditch in the vicinity of her home.

The child had been missing for more than an hour and when the grand-parents of the youngster started to search for her, the body was found in three feet of water a few hundred yards from her home. Dr. W. F. Anderson was called to the scene, but pronounced the child dead upon his arrival.

The Fast house is located near the northwest entrance to the V.L.A. home.

The body was removed to a local funeral parlor and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

COLD STORAGE FACILITIES RATED "BEST"

Okanagan Equipment Reported Finest of Any Fruit Area in America

REVIEW CONDITIONS

Representatives of the Better Fruit Committee, comprising delegates of all factions of the fruit industry in the Okanagan, met last Friday to consider ways and means of speeding up the packing of various fruits, particularly McIntosh apples and Bartlett pears.

A special sub-committee appointed in January to survey packing facilities of each shipper and particularly cold storage space in relation to needs and cold storage efficiency, reported that cold storage space had been increased at most ten per cent in the past year, and that the B.C. fruit industry now has the finest cold storage facilities of any fruit area in America.

Seven new graders have been installed for the 1947 crop and eleven more are on order. Certain packing houses and cold storage equipment is still difficult to secure, but no pains are being spared to obtain it in time for the 1947 crop, it was stated.

Labor Available

Labor for both orchard work and packing houses will, it is believed, be sufficient for all needs. Night crews will be instituted in at least four packing houses in the Kelowna area and possibly more.

It was reported that instances have come to light where prospective warehouse, packing house workers, particularly packers and sorters, have been persuaded to sign union application cards on the representations that they must join a union before they will be employed. "This is definitely incorrect and part of a program of misrepresentation carried on to create discord, it was claimed. Union membership is not compulsory in any fruit packing house."

Nail Supplies

Nail supplies are just one step ahead of requirements and shoox supplies are reasonably satisfactory in most areas. However, in the Kelowna-Westbank-Rutland area shoox will have to be imported to meet the requirements of a speeded up picking and packing program.

A number of small sawmill and shoox operations are in prospect. It is difficult to foretell the effect on the future economy of the fruit industry, or the industrial life of the communities.

One thing is certain, that the competitive conditions which existed prior to the war are already returning, it was stated. This was evidenced by prices now ruling on such commodities as peaches selling for 50 cents to 55 cents in U.S.A., and tomatoes selling for $1 per lug. Plums are also on the down grade.

There is no doubt that growers will have to examine their production and packing costs before another season. Apple prices remain reasonably good for early varieties.

"There is no telling what might happen when the main crops commence reaching the more restricted domestic market," one fruit official declared.

DRIVERS FINED FOR PARKING IN CITY PARK

For parking in a prohibited zone in City Park, two motorists appeared in city police court on July 23. Karl Chichocki, of Glenmore was fined $2.50 and costs and sentenced suspended for Walter Kofiaoff, of Brilliant, B.C.

Four motorists appeared in court on a similar charge on July 24. Helen Wiens, Don Peters and D. P. Knoohuizen were fined $2.50 and sentence suspended for Esther MacNally.

Vancouver Mayor Will be Here for Two-Day Water Show on August 5 and 6—Finishing Touches Being Applied to Well-Balanced Sports Program—Expenses for 41st Running of Regatta Reach All-Time High—Record Number of Entries Being Received for This Year's Event—Speed-boat Races Will be Among Outstanding Events—Boats Coming Here From Vancouver, Seattle and Lake Chelan

Mammoth Street Parade

MAYOR G. G. McGeer, of Vancouver, has accepted the invitation extended by the Kelowna Aquatic Association to act as the Commodore at the 41st annual International Regatta, it was revealed over the week-end by Dr. Walter Anderson, president of the association. The Vancouver senator, who will be officiating at the opening of the Nelson Golden Jubilee on the Monday preceding the two-day water event here on August 5 and 6, will be flown to the Orchard City either Monday night or early Tuesday morning in time to take part in the official opening scheduled for 1.30 p.m. Tuesday. He will be accompanied by his wife, Mrs. McGeer. Although the former Vancouver lawyer has visited the Okanagan Valley in previous years, it will be the first time he has had the opportunity of witnessing the Regatta.

As Regatta directors apply the finishing touches to the well-balanced sports program, the heavy week-end rain failed to dampen their spirits. A rain, such as that which fell here late Sunday afternoon and today, could easily be responsible for a heavy financial loss, as expenses for this year's Regatta have exceeded an all-time high. Large gate receipts are necessary in order to off-set the additional expenses, and therefore it is imperative that Old Sol shine in his full glory for the two days.

President Anderson declared that with Senator McGeer accepting the invitation for Commodore, it just about completes arrangements for the 1947 show. There are numerous other matters to be arranged, the most important of which is the billeting problem, but he is confident that citizens of Kelowna will come forward at the last minute and offer a spare room for Regatta contestants.

Never in the history of the Regatta have so many entries been received. Dick Parkinson, chairman of the Regatta committee, stated they are being received from all parts of Canada and the United States, and more heats will have to be run off during the two mornings than ever before. One instance, is the fact that the Yakima Swimming Club, which generally sends one or two swimmers, this year asked for 25 entry forms.

"It looks as if we will definitely have to limit the swimming clubs to so many entries in the future," Mr. Parkinson said. "This was one of the reasons why the three-day Regatta was considered at the annual meeting. It will be impossible to reveal the exact number of entries until next Monday, but they will definitely exceed the number received last year," he stated.

The Tuesday evening performance will get underway with a mammoth street parade, and for the first time floats will be entered. Hugh Shirreff, who is in charge of the floats, said that a total of 15 floats have definitely been promised by local merchants and other business firms. Five bands will be interspersed with the floats, while the parade will be headed by Lady of the Lake, Miss Aileen Smyth and other civic and visiting officials. The Kelowna Motorcycle Club has offered to provide a motorcycle escort for the "official" car, while decoys have been added to the parade.

The parade will start at 7 p.m. from the Armory and will proceed down Bernard Avenue to the City Park. From the swimmers point of view, such notables as Irene Strong, Eric Jubb, Peter and Ina Salmon, Joan Morgan, Audrey Jones, and Ted Wilson will again be on hand. Miss Strong was recently voted the outstanding woman athlete of Canada, and carried off most of the women's honors in last year's show, while Peter and Ina Salmon were awarded the Syd Thomas Memorial Trophy as having turned in the most outstanding athletic performance during the past 12 months. Salmon is an outstanding breast stroke swimmer, while Eric Jubb is still one of the best all-around junior swimmers in Canada.

Heavy Rains Will Slow Deliveries Of Peaches; Rain Heaviest In Years

DURING the past three days, a total of 1.18 inches of rain has fallen in the Kelowna district, while precipitation Sunday night amounted to more than three-quarters of the total amount, according to records kept by Dave Chapman, local meteorologist. The heavy deluge yesterday caught many picnickers unprepared, and when the downpour started around 7 o'clock Sunday night, it sent them scurrying for shelter. The rain continued most of the night and at 5 o'clock this morning it was still coming down hard. Precipitation during the 24-hour period, up to 8 o'clock this morning, amounted to .83 inch.

The rainfall will not affect fruit crops to any great extent, B.C. Tree Fruit officials declared, although when skies clear and the warm sun dries the fruit, local packinghouses will be rushed to capacity. Roy Boothe, assistant sales manager of the company said that 95 per cent of the apricots have been harvested, and that peaches would be rolling at full capacity within the next few days.

Rain fell throughout the entire Okanagan to as far as Creston, Mr. Boothe said. "Fortunately most of the crops are under cover, and only the tail end will probably be split." The cherry deal finished some time ago.

"Packing houses will be affected most," Mr. Boothe continued. "Peaches are starting to roll and normally packing houses would receive between 10 and 15,000 boxes, but they will be lucky if they get 3,000 today," he said. "Ground crops such as tomatoes, potatoes, onions and cucumbers will also be held up as the farmers cannot work the soil."

On the other hand, apple growers with slightly higher temperatures.

Canadian Navy Suffers "Worst Peacetime Disaster"

Six persons lost their lives, 16 others were injured and five are still missing as a result of the head-on collision between the Canadian destroyer Micmac and the 10,000-ton freighter Yarmouth County off Halifax harbor. The warship, shown above, collided with the Yarmouth County in a dense fog.

None of the 41 crew members and two passengers aboard the freighter Yarmouth County were injured in the collision termed the worst peacetime accident in the Canadian navy. Mont Clair, sister ship of the Yarmouth County, is shown here.

Cmdr. J. C. Littler, D.S.C., of Victoria, B.C., was in command of the destroyer Micmac. The destroyer was returning from pre-summer cruise trials when she collided with a freighter in the fog off Halifax, N.S.

Lieut. J. G. Mills, Toronto, emerged as one of the heroes of the Micmac collision with a freighter off Halifax, N.S., harbor. He was praised for courage control and rescue operations.

B.C. Peaches

In recent years British Columbia boxed apples have become a familiar sight in every important market place throughout Canada. B.C. apples of well-tested varieties, picked right, graded, packed and refrigerated, have been received in every market and the uniform quality within the box has made the product famous.

And now peaches grown in British Columbia are following the trade lanes throughout the prairies and beyond into eastern Canada and have been meeting a favorable reception. This year's crop is just commencing to roll and it is anticipated that once again the contents of the package will give satisfaction and bring repeat orders.

Early plantings of peaches in the Okanagan were not too successful. A number of factors contributed toward a failure to market successfully a limited crop. Varieties were not suitable and growing, harvesting and marketing procedures were faulty.

In an attempt to improve this situation the Summerland Experimental Station introduced new varieties in the late twenties and early thirties. This was followed by comprehensive investigations into maturity, harvesting and storage of this highly perishable crop. It was found that when peaches were picked fully mature they are still quite hard and will ripen perfectly in four to ten days according to temperatures. Thus growers were able to gain an increase up to twenty-five per cent in weight while consumers obtained a quality fruit hitherto unknown.

In 1939 peach production in B.C. was 250,000 boxes; in 1940 it had increased to 517,000 boxes. The crop of peaches for 1947 is expected to reach the high level of two million boxes.

The main reason for this remarkable increase is the reaction of markets to satisfactory high quality peaches, combined with good and reasonable selling procedure. About one-third of the crop goes to canneries, while the remainder is sold throughout the fresh fruit markets.

The story of B.C. peaches—and apples—is the familiar story of a ready sale for a quality product.

Nevertheless, it must be recognized that external factors may affect the Okanagan peach deal, and particularly that this year it may suffer through drastic collapse of peach prices in the United States.

American prices have dropped to such a degree that even the recently applied dump duty does not prevent them underselling our peaches at their opening prices. With the marketing of a record peach crop scarcely begun, there are problems looming which make the outcome of the deal a distinct uncertainty.

Peach growers, like apple growers, must now realize that the hey-day of "demand-greater-than-supply" and high net returns is approaching its end; that the fruit industry is returning to normalcy.

While there is no necessity to talk of "red ink" growers would be advised to watch their costs closely and take a dim view of all factors that tend to increase their production costs or the costs of the materials they use. As primary producers they have no way of passing the increased costs to anyone else. They are the end of the line.

B.C. Takes The Lead

A Toronto social worker, with experience in conducting Borstal institutions in England, has been appointed head of the new Borstal to be opened in September in this province. The government is reopening the Borstal home, "New Haven", which was closed in 1942 for economy reasons and because its opponents then considered it "too idealistic". It is now being reopened in response to demands from all parts of the community.

The British Columbia government intends to make at "New Haven" a demonstration of the genuine Borstal services. The institution with sixty-two acres of farm and bush land has been remodelled and redecorated. Young male offenders between 18 and 21 years of age will be eligible for admission; each will be selected for ability to benefit by the training of law unto himself, if he is to urge the flouting of a statute when passed by a legislative assembly by lawful means, then he is forgetting the democratic process by which he himself may some day be appealing to the public.

The B.C. Borstal will provide academic and vocational training and follow-up service to rehabilitate each new case into the community. The government has announced it will have a good-sized staff, trained and especially selected for such work. A social worker has been appointed probation officer and for follow-up services. The provincial department of education is giving a variety of co-operative services. It is helping to select qualified teaching personnel; it has provided the use of its travelling library, and all Borstal inmates will have access to the department's educational facilities and that of the university. Physical education and recreation will be given by provincial recreation officials. The vocational training for the boys will be related to employment opportunities in the province. They will be given courses in placer mining, diesel engineering, logging, timber grading, motor mechanics and building construction, in addition to academic and cultural subjects. They will learn also how to cook, farm and run their own cottage units. They will thus receive training in co-operation, self-reliance and self-government.

The honor system is the keynote of the plan of correction; "New Haven" is to have no fences, no guns, no bars and no locks to keep the boys inside. During the four years this Borstal was last operated, the department reported the system produced "outstanding results". It was estimated that more than eighty per cent of the boys were rehabilitated into useful citizens.

Trouble, Trouble, Everywhere

The Kamloops Sentinel, noting the unrest throughout the province regarding the present financing arrangement for education, suggests that there should be a special session of the Legislature called to consider all aspects of the problem. This, says the Sentinel, "is the province's most urgent need."

There can be no doubt that the unrest caused by the too-hurried institution of the recommendations of the Cameron report is growing. From all sections of the province there come reports of dissatisfaction. There are plenty of indications that a storm is brewing. It may well be that the question of education, its administration and its costs, will be the rock upon which the government may flounder.

Penticton and Summerland have come to the parting of the ways and have petitioned for division of their consolidated school district. Their request will probably be granted just as it was in the case of Abbotsford and Mission. Other similar requests will probably follow. The Government has made concessions to appease rural taxpayers and in most areas there is apparently a general dissatisfaction of the whole picture. Much of this might have been avoided possibly had the ground for the drastic changes in school administration been properly prepared and some attempt made to analyse the effect of the new regulations before they were made law. The Cameron report itself specifically urged that this be done, but the Government in its haste to implement the report chose to ignore this advice with disastrous effects. It is now reaping the whirlwind. Unfortunately, too, extremely large increases in teachers' salaries came at the same time and, unfairly, this is being blamed upon the enlarged school districts.

The problems are many and thorny, and it may be that the Kamloops Sentinel is upon the right road when it suggests that the matter is important enough to warrant the calling of a special session to consider this matter alone.

"Break The Law"?

(Penticton Herald)

The people of British Columbia should pay careful heed to the implications in the remarks of Harold Winch, C.C.F. Opposition leader, who addressed a "Bill 39 labor rally" in Vancouver last Sunday night.

Mr. Winch roused his audience by the declaration that it is "absolutely ethical" to oppose the law and, if necessary, to break the law. If Mr. Winch is correctly reported, what he has said is utterly to be condemned.

In the legislative functions in which he holds a most important role, Mr. Winch should realize that the whole foundation of society, as we know it, consists in a recognition of the value of order.

A law may seem wrong, to him, as to many others. But so long as it is the law, it should be adhered to until altered. Such should be the counsel of the leader of any opposition as well as the leader of the government. For any other course long since has been proven extremely dangerous.

If Mr. Winch is to become an advocate

The dangerous nonsense which he now has allowed himself to proclaim should be promptly censured by those even within his own ranks.

A "break the law" suggestion, by the leader of an official opposition, is as grave a development as could be contemplated in any area. It is too bad that it has sprung to notice in British Columbia. It is the stuff that makes for Fascism, on the one hand, in which the forces of progress are balked by entrenched capital, or for a totalitarianism of the left, on the other hand, in which democracy is sacrificed on an equally unholy altar.

If democracy means anything, it means a determination to abide by the compromises of orderly administration, voiced—with all its anomalies—through a parliamentary process. The much discussed "Bill 39" has been given the force of law by the properly elected representatives of the people of this province. Whether we like or dislike that particular law is not the all-important point. It resolves itself, instead, into the serious question as to whether we shall be governed by law or by rabble-rousing.

The Halifax federal by-election has been over now for two weeks, but, apparently, its repercussions will be heard in certain circles for many a long day. The significant thing about the election was not the Liberal victory but the poor showing of the Conservatives and the improved showing of the CCF. Conservative circles are obviously disturbed and veiled suggestions that all is not well with the leadership of the party have been carried by Conservative papers.

THIS SUGGESTION, of course, is not entirely new. There have been plenty of indications during the past year that the Ontario bloc particularly is not too happy about Mr. Bracken's leadership. Ontario Conservatives seem to feel that in Premier George Drew, of Ontario, they have the logical man to revive the fading party.

THE TORONTO GLOBE AND MAIL, a paper very close to Drew, left no doubt about its feelings in its editorial comment on the Halifax debacle—debacle for the Conservatives. The Globe and Mail said in part:

"The Liberal victory in the Halifax by-election was no surprise. . . . But the real significance of the Halifax vote was not to be minimized in the large margin of the Liberal candidate. It lies in the resounding defeat of the Progressive Conservatives and the relatively strong showing of the CCF. While the election was a general election, the by-election of 1945, the Progressive Conservatives had almost 5,000 fewer supporters. The CCF gained more than 6,000 votes. Their campaign vote shows that the majority disapprove of, or are dissatisfied with the Federal administration; it shows also that the Progressive Conservative party has lost favor as an alternative to the present government. The lessons which the Opposition must draw from the by-election are sharp and clear. One is that the Socialists are by no means to be ignored. But more fundamental is the warning of organization in the weakness. It is the consensus, certainly of the press correspondents who went to Halifax, that the campaign organization was shockingly inadequate. This is not to be dismissed as a local lapse. On the contrary, it traces all too plainly to the national headquarters. Were the national management on its toes to single into experience any degree of unemployment. But even more significant is the fact that the party was unable to capture a large portion of the fishermen's votes which until now has been traditionally Liberal."

THE CCF GAIN was, in fact, the only real point of interest in the results and it came as a shock at least to the Progressive Conservatives, who had given up hope of winning before the polls opened, but were confident of second place.

WHILE THE GAIN for the CCF can be taken partly as a personal tribute to Clarence Gillis, the hard-hitting member for Cape Breton South, who stumped the riding for the CCF candidate, the fact that the Socialist party has been able to make its mark in a Maritime by-election and to experience any degree of success is a fact that the party was able to capture a large portion of the fishermen's votes which until now has been traditionally Liberal.

THE PARTY'S FIGHT to gain a foothold in the constituency was the only undercurrent of real interest in the campaign. Its campaign was waged much less on a socialist platform than on a straight labor ticket. They were constantly on issues like the removal of the milk subsidy, the rising cost of living generally and the charges that remaining controls were being used only to protect big business. Both the Progressive Conservatives and the CCF damned home the necessity of decentralization of industry with vague suggestions but no promises of forcing the central provinces to transplant manufacturing plants to the Maritimes.

THIS WAS THE FIRST Maritime peace-time election with the soldier vote back in the constituency. Overseas Maritime polls in 1945 gave the CCF a good majority in Halifax and the party has obviously gained from having these men as workers as well as voters.

THE PICNIC

It had been a very full day for Mrs. Jim Brady and now—she said it to herself with a sigh—it was over. She had been at these staff picnics before and they had all been exhausting, of course, but never so much as this one.

That would be because the firm had grown so much since the war. Things were really booming. Jim had told her. In fact, it had seemed to Mrs. Brady at first that perhaps they'd got in with the wrong picnic, there'd been so many strangers there. But finally they'd seen people who had been with her. That was sweet of the big ape, wasn't it, she thought angrily.

It WAS OBVIOUS months before the election that the federal Liberals were banking on Premier MacDonald of Nova Scotia as their trump card. Only officially did they keep up the pretense that the timing of the Nova Scotia acceptance of the Abbott tax proposals and the announcement of the by-election date were coincidence. It had been fully expected that the whole Dominion-provincial issue would be dragged forward by the Progressive Conservatives as the main election talking point. Today the Liberals are still puzzled by the Opposition's failure to do so. They were ready with their defense, but privately they admit that they would have been none too comfortable at seeing the campaign swing in this direction.

THE CCF GAIN was, in fact, the only real point of interest in the results and it came as a shock at least to the Progressive Conservatives, who had given up hope of winning before the polls opened, but were confident of second place.

WHILE THE GAIN for the CCF can be taken partly as a personal tribute to Clarence Gillis, the hard-hitting member for Cape Breton South, who stumped the riding for the CCF candidate, the fact that the Socialist party has been able to make its mark in a Maritime by-election and to experience any degree of success is a fact that the party was able to capture a large portion of the fishermen's votes which until now has been traditionally Liberal.

THE PARTY'S FIGHT to gain a foothold in the constituency was the only undercurrent of real interest in the campaign. Its campaign was waged much less on a socialist platform than on a straight labor ticket. They were constantly on issues like the removal of the milk subsidy, the rising cost of living generally and the charges that remaining controls were being used only to protect big business. Both the Progressive Conservatives and the CCF damned home the necessity of decentralization of industry with vague suggestions but no promises of forcing the central provinces to transplant manufacturing plants to the Maritimes.

THIS WAS THE FIRST Maritime peace-time election with the soldier vote back in the constituency. Overseas Maritime polls in 1945 gave the CCF a good majority in Halifax and the party has obviously gained from having these men as workers as well as voters.

LADY IRIS FACES BAD CHEQUES CHARGE

Lady Iris Mountbatten O'Malley, 27-year-old cousin of King George VI and great-granddaughter of the late Queen Victoria, is shown at police headquarters, in New York, with Detective Joseph Sulik. She was arrested as a Washington, D.C., fugitive warrant charging her with passing bad cheques adding up to $185.05. She is divorced from Capt. Hamilton Keyes O'Malley.

creatures who didn't belong. They'd eaten their soft tomato sandwiches and drunk their lukewarm cocoa at one of the long picnic tables, isolated from the tight little family groups.

Oh, there'd been other things. Mrs. Brady had made the mistake of wearing slacks and by their tightness she had been conscious all day that they were attracting some undesirable attention. She wished she'd just worn a little house dress.

Then, too, they'd shouted her in to running in the race (ladies race over 50, the program said) and it had been a nightmare for her, running through the hot, billowing dust with a dozen other tired, plump women. The people on the sidelines screamed at them and her heart had pumped furiously.

She had fallen just before the finish, fallen full in the dust, and her knee was badly skinned, but you couldn't see that under the slacks and she'd got up, laughing shrilly, but feeling sick with shock.

Everywhere they'd gone there were the hot, jam-packed crowds, the smell of picnic food and all those disgusting sights of the summer resort: the strutting, bronzed young men and the girls waddling by in their too-tight bathing suits, the loud-voiced master-of-ceremonies bellowing crude humor into the microphone, the sudden clamor of the people cheering the racers, the whole sweltering, maddening atmosphere of too many people together in the hot sun.

Then there'd been the boat ride back to town and Mrs. Brady and Jim had found themselves crammed in behind a funnel. Kids climbed all over them and the soot blew in their faces and when all that was over they'd crowded into a street car and stood all the way home.

Mrs. Brady was not an emotional woman. She couldn't say what made her heart so heavy this night except that she was tired. She could only say to herself that this deep feeling of depression would go again in the morning, because she knew from experience it would. She turned over heavily in the bed and then she realized that her pillow was wet with hot tears.

Get Sure Results -

50% MORE JAM or JELLY with CERTO

1 QUICK-EASY

With Certo there's no long, tedious boiling and stirring. Certo jams need only a one to two-minute full, rolling boil . . . jellies only a half-minute to a minute.

2 MORE JAM OR JELLY

The Certo boil is so short very little juice has time to boil away in steam. So you get up to 50% more jam or jelly from your fruit.

3 ENDS GUESSWORK

Look for book of Tested Recipes under the label of every Certo bottle.

Results are sure if you follow exactly the recipe for the particular fruit you are using.

4 M--M--M!

So delicious! So sparkling! The short Certo boil does not spoil the fresh fruit taste or dull the natural colour!

Certo is fruit pectin—the natural jellying substance extracted from fruit.

MIKE SEKORA MOVED EAST

Mike Sekora, well-known throughout the lumber industry in the Interior as an organizer of the International Woodworkers of America (I.W.A.) and International representative in this area, has been transferred to Eastern Canada where he is to report early in August.

Mr. Sekora will be in charge of I.W.A. work in Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. He plans to open a central office, issue a publication and otherwise further the organization of that territory.

MANY ATTEND COFFEE PARTY

Mrs. John Dunlop and Mrs. N. van der Vliet were hostesses at the home of the former, at 1681 Pendoe St. Street, on Wednesday morning when they entertained at a coffee party. The cool, flower-scented rooms, verandah and shady garden made a perfect setting for some 60 guests to renew old friendships and to meet newcomers and visitors.

Mrs. J. C. Kennedy and Mrs. F. A. Taylor presided at the coffee table, and the servers were Miss Anne Allan, Miss Frances Beeson, Miss Joan Fraser, Miss Nancy Ladd, Miss Mary Vance and Mrs. Beth Wilson.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Barbara Bullock-Webster, Victoria; Mrs. Gus Lyons, Mrs. Norman Lamb, Mrs. L. St. M. DuMoulin, Mrs. Archie McGowan and Mrs. J. Campbell McLean, Vancouver; Mrs. Harold Miller, Camrose, Alberta; and Mrs. C. R. Tanner, Calgary.

STILLWATER, B.C. DAM BEING RAISED 20 FEET

This is the Scanlon Dam at Stillwater, B.C., now being increased over twenty feet in height to raise the head of water up to 412 feet. When completed the dam will contain 90,000 yards of concrete behind which will be some 16 lakes in a drainage area of 164 square miles. The length of the Dam is 715 feet and when completed will rise 201 feet above the bed rock of the river. Thus the hydro-electric power available to the Powell River Company's paper mill, 17 miles distant, will be considerably increased to meet plant expansion needs. Ninety-five per cent of British Columbia's pulp and paper is sold in export markets, a sizeable proportion of B.C.'s export business which is 67 per cent of the Province's total production of all goods.

NORTH OKANAGAN VALLEY NEWS ROUNDUP

PROPOSED REGULATIONS for the VERNON Regulated Area recalled both favorable and unfavorable comment at a meeting held last week. Only two positive suggestions were made at the meeting. Those were that the government take a plebiscite to ascertain the wishes of the people concerned and that the area considered be within a set radius of the city limits and a certain depth from the lake shore, and all the rest of the territory be exempted. Only 14 persons attended the public hearing.

VERNON IS APPARENTLY accepting the prospect of continuing the Presidents' and Secretaries' military camp site for the next two years. Council last week authorized securing a two year lease on the property from the Department of National Defence. The other hope of improving the housing situation, that of interesting Central Mortgage and Housing in converting either military buildings into low rental homes is not bright at present. A few days ago, it was announced that plans are being considered to demolish the training camp and that it would be used as a "canvas" camp site.

VERNON WILL BE THE CENTRE of a Rotarian conference this week as members from the 31 member clubs in Central Washington, Western Idaho and the Interior of B.C. belonging to Rotary District 103 converge on the city to attend the President and Secretaries' assembly. Over 100 Rotarians will be in the city.

VERNON CITIZENS WILL have the opportunity to honor a promise on August 27 when the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic visits the city. Over 700 persons signed pledges to give blood last winter.

AT ARMSTRONG, a meeting of the Union Board of Health was held to discuss the possibility of a T.B. accredited area for the North Okanagan. Everard Clarke stated that most milk shippers were in favor of the move. Under this plan milk would be rid of T.B. germs which are a menace to all milk consumers, especially raw milk drinkers; cattle could be bought with confidence anywhere in the area, and purebred cattle would have an additional protection of their investment.

A $30,000 FIRE AT SALMON ARM destroyed a large frame building last week. In it was housed the implement business of A. F. Politehek and Sons, owners of the building. Also suffering heavy loss were a radio repair shop owned by William Jorgensen; a tire recapping plant owned by William Donesy, and a garage and U-drive business. Prior to moving to Salmon Arm, Mr. Politehek was engaged in the implement business in Armstrong.

CONSTRUCTION ON THE NEW ROAD TO ENDERBY started last week when the Maxwell Construction Co. established an office in Armstrong. The back Enderby road is being followed for a short distance then crosses the track by an overhead bridge angling over to the present main road to Enderby, which will be straightened and widened into a permanent highway.

AT KAMLOOPS, it was reported that the reopening of the road north of Blue River is expected within two weeks. This was the advice received by the Kamloops Sentinel following a recent meeting in Valemount when representatives from McBry, Valemount and Blue River met to consider the proposal of clearing the road under the terms of the offer made by Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works, Western Idaho and the Interior of B.C. belonging to Rotary District 103 converge on the city to attend the President and Secretaries' assembly. Over 100 Rotarians will be in the city.

KAMLOOPS CITY ENGINEER is investigating the possibility of supplying water to those living outside the city limits. One alderman thought the extension of the city's boundaries was the obvious solution.

Four motorists appeared in city police court July 23 on charges of not having proper lights on their vehicles. Fines of $2.50 and costs were imposed on W. A. Kingsley and Bernard Smith for operating their cars without the tail light in proper working order. On a similar charge Wm. Sapirkin was given suspended sentence upon payment of costs of $1.75. Suspended sentence upon payment of costs of $1.75 was also imposed on D. C. Brookes when he pleaded guilty to operating his car at night with only one headlight in working order.

SOUTH OKANAGAN VALLEY NEWS ROUNDUP

ECHOES OF PAST YEARS, when PENTICTON was under stringent sprinkling regulations are looming before Penticton Council, as the need for sprinkling control again appears. No such regulations have been in force for some years, but will likely be established shortly. Reason for the imminence of this provision is two-fold. The heavy draw upon domestic water reserves by a growing community, and the dry conditions prevailing in the hills.

AT PENTICTON, growers are reported to have obtained a better class of orchard labor this year, and to date 937 persons have been placed through the district by the Emergency Farm Labor Service. Of these 604 were men, 331 women; 105 applicants were sent from head of the balance recruited through the local office. "The type of girl applying this year, is generally speaking, pretty useful material and of higher average intelligence and more than has been the case in previous years," H. K. Whimister, placement officer stated.

SOME STEPS TOWARD CLARIFICATION of the school board's disagreement between Summerville and Penticton have been made by the Department of Education. At a recent meeting of District 15 School Board, letters and telegrams were read that may tend to solve the problem. Gist of these is that the 1946 figures are those governing the board in apportioning cost both of operation of the schools, and of the proposed new and altered buildings. No word has been received from the department implementing the Penticton Council's request to separate from Summerville in school board matters.

PENTICTON SCHOOL OFFICIALS are also worried over the club house burning and is holding practices every Tuesday and Thursday evenings. If sufficient interest is aroused, crews of war canoe paddlers will be sent to the Kelowna Regatta August 5 and 6.

SUMMERLAND WAR CANOE club house burning and is holding practices every Tuesday and Thursday evenings. If sufficient interest is aroused, crews of war canoe paddlers will be sent to the Kelowna Regatta August 5 and 6.

AT SUMMERLAND, it was reported that progress is being made by the committee in charge of the Memorial Parks. A total of $4,271 has been expended on the two parks to date.

SUMMERLAND RECENTLY received word from Ottawa that the $20,000 appropriation for the new entomological laboratory building has passed the supplementary estimate of the House of Commons. This sum will be expended to purchase and move to Summerland one of the large army H huts to be converted into a modern laboratory for the ever-growing laboratory at the Dominion Entomological Service which is under the charge of Dr. James Marshall.

Travel Over 1,523 Mile Long Alaska Highway Is Curtailed

Available Housing on Widely-Spaced Stop-Over Points Not Available

Travel over the 1,523 mile long Alaska highway, while perfectly feasible for well-equipped travelers, is not as easy as some enthusiastic reports would suggest. Due to shortages of building materials, available housing at widely-spaced stop-over points is not sufficient to take care of any large volume of tourists.

In this connection, R. A. Gibson, director of lands, parks and forest branch of the Canadian Department of Mines and Resources which administers the highway, stated recently in Ottawa, "We are not yet in a position where ordinary tourist travel can be accommodated. It is difficult enough these days to provide accommodation at places more convenient of access and we do not wish to have our visitors become dissatisfied through travel to remote areas where some enthusiastic writer has presented an attractive picture but which in fact are temporary drawbacks."

Contrary to wide-spread belief, the Alaska highway is not yet open for general tourist travel. Travel permits must be obtained from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Edmonton or the commanding officer of the Canadian Army unit that maintains the highway from headquarters at Dawson Creek before any journey is commenced.

The regulations governing the issuance of these permits state that they will be readily issued to prospectors and others who have actual business along the highway, or in Alaska, if they can show they are organized and able to supply themselves with transportation, gas, oil and spare parts, and to undertake necessary vehicle repairs. Also eligible are organized parties of hunters who have made prior arrangements and accompanied by qualified guides, providing their vehicles are "roadworthy" and they comply otherwise with the travel regulations.

To be certified "roadworthy" a vehicle must carry two spare tires and tubes; tube repair kit, tire chains, pump, gauge and jack; tools; tow rope; axe, shovel and first aid kit.

For the present, the following spare parts must also be carried: spark plugs; fan belt; distributor coil and points; light fuses; condenser; fuel pump kit; brake fluid; axle; generator brushes and clutch parts.

The travel permit regulations further state that, "It is regretted that for the present it will not be possible to issue permits to those who wish to travel on the highway for a holiday." The sole reason for this restriction is the lack of suitable accommodation at overnight stopping places, which are sometimes 200 miles apart. Building is being hurried along the route, but the present shortage of materials makes it impossible to provide adequate housing for this year.

It is possible, however, to holiday on the Alaska highway by utilizing a bus service which operates three times weekly between Dawson Creek and Whitehorse and between Whitehorse and Fairbanks, Alaska. Bus travellers do not require permits and are accommodated overnight at lodges operated by the bus companies. The round trip takes 22 to 28 days, depending upon whether the return is made by air or by bus and rail. Full information on these conducted tours may be obtained from the British Yukon Navigation Company and O'Hara Bus Lines at Whitehorse, Yukon Territory.

The Alaska highway, with a gravelled surface, runs from Dawson Creek, British Columbia to Fairbanks, Alaska, the great part of it through wild, virgin country. Every effort is being made to develop the route and adjacent lands into a popular and easily accessible vacation district. But for the present, as D. Lee Dignan, director of the Canadian government travel bureau, points out, "It should be made plain that travel on the Alaska highway is not yet the same as tourist travel on other highways in Canada."

Red Mites Numerous In Kelowna Orchards Crop Report Indicates; Slight Hail Damage In Peachland

RED mites are numerous in many orchards in the Kelowna district and require constant vigilance to keep them in check, according to the fortnightly Horticultural News Letter issued by the Provincial Department of Agriculture this week. Hot weather prevailed up to the latter part of last week, and slight hail damage was reported in some districts. Tree fruits are sizing well.

Spraying for second brood of codling moth will be in full swing by the beginning of this week. Apricots and other early fruits are being harvested, while semi-ripe tomatoes are making their appearance in packing houses and should increase in volume daily. They are a few days ahead of last year. The second crop of alfalfa is being harvested.

A severe electrical storm on July 14, resulted in some hail falling in the Peachland district. Total precipitation from the storm amounted to .39 inches. The area affected by the hail was very small, but the grade of apples in several orchards will be reduced.

Following is a detail report of interior points:

Salmon Arm, Sorrento and Main Line Points
As reported July 23rd: Following the last report there were a few days of cloudy weather with scattered rain showers. Since then, very warm days and cool nights have prevailed. Soil moisture is still adequate for most crops but some rain would be beneficial. Apples and pears are sizing well. Yellow Transparents are being picked. Very little development of apple scab or damage from codling moth is evident, although initial infestations of red mite on Delicious have been found. Tree care generally showing good vigor and the die-back condition reported in May, seems, for the most part, to have disappeared.

Cherry picking is in the final phase. Lamberts are now moving in volume and should be cleaned up by the end of the week.

In small fruits, commercial shipments of strawberries are over. Raspberries are at their peak. Quality may be affected in some cases where individual berries are ripening very unevenly.

Armstrong, Vernon, Oyanma Winfield and Okanagan Centre
As reported July 24th: Since our last report weather conditions have been quite settled, dry and very high temperatures. The effects of this condition is showing up on crops with low moisture supply.

In the orchards, fruit and tree development is still excellent, where growth conditions are normal. Thinning operations are about complete and there is a general movement of early fruits. The apricot harvest will be about complete this week-end. First peaches and peach plums are moving into the packing houses and there is a general movement of yellow Transparents and duchess apples as cookers.

In small fruits, the heavy harvest of raspberries of excellent quality is about completed and blackberries will be the next fruit of this class in line.

In the vegetable fields, maturity of all crops is now rapid and there is a heavy movement of all vegetables. Harvest of field tomatoes is now general.

In general farm crops, second cut alfalfa under irrigation is now going forward with yields variable. The harvest of winter grains and dried peas is also under way and will be general in the next week. Wheat smut does not appear to be at all serious in this season's crop. Pastures and ranges in general are now looking quite poor, brought on by the extreme heat and drought conditions.

The general pest situation is not serious, although Woolly Apherid and Mealy Plum aphid is somewhat of a problem in odd blocks. The red mite situation is very serious and is causing concern to all individuals interested in the fruit business. Unless this pest is very soon controlled it will undoubtedly effect the quality and yield of all orchards where the infestation is heavy. Second brood codling moth is increasing in numbers and growers are warned to pay attention to their control sprays for this pest immediately.

Summerland, Westbank and Peachland
As reported July 23rd: Clear skies and high summer temperatures have prevailed since the issue of our last report. A rainfall of .39 inches was recorded after the severe electrical storm of July 14th. Some hail fell in the Peachland district just before this storm. The area affected by hail was very small but the grade of apples in several orchards will be reduced.

Apricot picking is now in full swing. The season continues to run about a week ahead of last year with prospects of it speeding up still more if the hot weather lasts. Peach plums are moving at peak while the harvest of Yellow Transparents is well past peak.

Thinning of later variety apples is still going on. Cucumbers and mature green tomatoes are being harvested in the Westbank area with some ripe and semi-ripe coming in as well.

Insect pests are very active this season. European Red Mite is prevalent throughout the district. Here and there infestations of this pest got underway early and have become severe. Early and repeated applications of miticides have controlled most outbreaks. Pear Psylla has been more frequently reported this season as so have Woolly Apherids.

Second brood codling moth is now flying and some growers have reported young larvae already entering apples. The end of this week should see second brood spraying in full swing.

Penticton, Naramata, Kaleden and Keremeos
As reported July 23rd: The fine summer weather continues since the last report. Wenatchee apricots will be pretty well over by the end of this week and the later varieties are coming along quite rapidly.

Peach plums have passed the peak and should be cleaned up shortly. European red mite is causing a great deal of trouble and it is the worst infestation ever experienced here. Pacific mite is just commencing to show up.

Spraying for second brood codling moth will be general about July 28th.

The orchards generally are in excellent shape for this time of the year, all fruits are showing good size. The growers are pushing the

TWO PROTESTS ARE ALLOWED IN BALL LOOP

SUMMERLAND, July 21 Game are not always won on the playing field, as members of the South Okanagan Similkameen Baseball League (Northern Division) found out this week when two protests were heard and decided upon by the league moguls.

As a result, the league playoffs have been thrown into consternation and set back for a couple of weeks. Sunday yesterday Rutland travelled to Peachland to replay the game won by Peachland but was thrown out on Rutland's protest.

Bob Brown Decides

The protest involved a decision by Peachland Umpire Bradley, who called a base-runner out on interference. Rutland protested that this should have been left to the field official and Bob Brown of the Vancouver Capilano upheld the Rutland contention. Last Tuesday night the league officials decided to agree with Brown's decision.

In the meantime, another protest has been thrown into the melting pot and has been sustained. The Kelowna Cubs have beaten 5-0 at Rutland but because they were not allowed by the umpire to put in a pinch-hitter they had the game nullified.

The umpire of this contest, Bud Fraser, would not allow the Cubs to put in another batter for one who had taken a called strike. As the rule book states that a batter can be replaced at any stage of the game, the league executive allowed the protest. The Cubs had two men on and two out and a count of 3-0 against them when their rally was nipped by the umpire's decision.

Rutland and the Cubs have been asked to replay this game in the middle of the week so that playoffs can start on Sunday, August 3. But Rutland has balked at any mid-week game. If it cannot be run off before August 3, then playoffs will not start until August 10.

There are a good number of possibilities about these two protested games. If Peachland beats Rutland again, then Summerland and Peachland are tied for top spot and Rutland would have to beat the Cubs to gain a tie for third place with them. In such a case, there would have to be sudden-death games to decide top spot and third place.

In the Southern Division, Princeton holds the top spot without a defeat this season, while Hedley is in second place and Copper Mountain in third. It was stated at last Tuesday's meeting.

The Mediterranean Sea was so called by the early Latins because they believed it to be "the middle of the world."

Record Crowd Attends Ball Game As Red Sox Beat San Diego Tigers

SAN DIEGO Tigers, like the firecracker that failed to go off, can put some of the blame on the blasting operations carried out by the Kelowna Red Sox. Without warning, the Murraysmen exploded in the faces of the touring Negro team and the latter's 9-1 beating at City Park Thursday evening was one of the worst taken since the Tigers started out on tour this year.

If anyone needed proof that Kelowna liked its baseball this year, he had a park full of evidence Thursday night. Certainly the largest ball crowd in the past two years, and perhaps the largest on record, was on hand to witness the Orchard City boys trim the dusky visitors. With 1,200 paid admissions, the crowd was estimated at more than 1,500.

While Harold Cousins was twirling one of the best games of his current season—he got down the Tigers with four hits—his teammates shook themselves loose of the blinds covering their batting eyes last Sunday and grabbed 13 safe hits off two Tiger pitchers.

Hitless Until Sixth: Cousins had the Tigers completely at his mercy until the sixth inning and would have had a shutout but for the home run in that frame. Vanted home run hitter Johnny Johnson tagged one out of the park and brought in the only Tiger run.

Later in the game, the Tigers showed some signs of their much-talked-about power hitting but Dave Newton, patrolling the centre field and all points east and west took care of that.

In some respects the Tigers were a disappointment to the huge crowd. In the early stages they committed errors that seemed a little hard to believe. Santa Fe Morris, who fills in between third base and being the clown of the infield gave out with enough crowd-pleasing antics to make up for some of the miscues of the others.

Sox Fielding Best: At times the Cats showed signs of the flashy fielding for which they are noted. But in the complete analysis, fielding honors went not to the Tigers but to the Kelowna Red Sox. They played inspired ball offensively and defensively, and it is very unlikely the same Tigers who were here on Thursday could have beaten them.

Several of the regular lineup had to leave the squad a short time ago through family bereavement, man-

SALMON ARM HERE TUESDAY

After a week's rest, Kelowna seniors will be out in fairly good strength Tuesday night to get back into their winning ways. Opposition at the box in City Park will be Salmon Arm and unless the northmen have improved considerably over the past week, Kelowna is given an excellent chance of getting out of the rut.

Ken Parks, who has been sidelined for more than a week with an injured knee is expected to be back in action bolstering the defence. Also expected back in the injury-riddled lineup is centreman Larry Reid. Alf Ball is only a likely starter, still suffering from the effects of a broken nose.

Standings in the Interior Lacrosse Association, including all games played so far are as follows:

Vernon	12	9	3	18
Kelowna	11	7	4	14
Armstrong	13	5	8	10
Salmon Arm	9	4	5	8

Boxla Midgets In Finals

Kelowna's lacrosse midgets, now playing in the sweaters of the famed Kelowna Kodiaks of hockey note, earned their way Friday night into the playoffs of the Valley League when they wound up their season, still undefeated, with an 11-2 win over Vernon at the box in City Park.

Legion Pioneers, playing shorthanded but helped by some of the senior squad, gained a 5-2 victory over the Vernon juniors, in a second game also played Friday at City Park. Whether or not the Pioneers will figure in the junior playoffs was not definitely known Saturday.

To many of the players on both local squads the games came as a surprise. They were given to believe, it was reported, that the games had been called off because of the rain during the afternoon 0 which left the floor and the bleachers seats wet.

However, the Vernonites were not at all advised in time and arrived here at 7:30, looking for blood. After a mad scramble, enough players were thrown in to put on two good games before a scant 40 people who turned out.

It was one win and one loss for Kelowna at Armstrong Wednesday night when the midgets, clobbered with their combinations, eked out a thrilling 8-7 win while the Pioneers were going under 13-4, to an Armstrong team allegedly spiked with seniors.

Interior Champs Lose At Coast

Among the 125 odd rinks fighting it out for the hardware in the B.C. Lawn Bowling Championships at Vancouver recently, was Kelowna's rink, the Interior and Okanagan tilts, skip by Don Whitham, but the "Little Champs" faded near the end of play and wound up among the majority of the defeated.

Mr. Whitham, chief spokesman for the rink which also included W. H. Hughes, Games, R. Whillis and C. E. Campbell, said they managed to keep in the running until they were knocked out the final day. The meet, starting on Monday and going through until Saturday, July 14-19, was favored by fairly good weather except the first day, according to the skip. He said there were 500 to 550 bowlers in the tourney from all parts of B.C., with many from other parts of Canada and from the United States.

MANY HEED ADVICE GIVEN BY ED KELTER

Tennis and Diving Hopefuls Take Advantage of Training Classes

Scores of young and not-so-young tennis and diving hopefuls took advantage of the two weeks free training and instruction provided by Ed Kelter, noted tennis and diving coach. The instructor left the city yesterday for Kamloops, where he will spend about a week doing the same work.

Close to 50 attended the classes at the Kelowna Tennis Club courts on Harvey Ave. Several of them were not members of the club, according to Kelter, but he believes their interest now is such that club membership will show a large increase from now on.

While it was almost impossible to estimate the number of boys, girls, young men and women who attended the diving classes at the Aquatic, Kelter believes many of them profited from the help he was able to give them. Quick to seek out his help were those who are planning on competing in the Regatta diving events.

To Enter Regatta

Among these are Basil Jennens, Edwin Lipinski, Ben Foss, Una Smith, Joan McKinley, Jill Cookson and Gerald Gunnarson. Saturday, cold and sunless, held no fears for Jennens and Lipinski, who were the only two out seeking more know how about their dives.

Both intend competing in the Interior and B.C. men's three-metre diving events. "I'll be out practicing every day," said Lipinski, whose form was a credit to the training he received while studying professional ballet at Vancouver.

When asked to comment on Kelter's tennis lessons on behalf of the tennis club, President S. R. Davis said: "He did a very good job and was kept busy all the time. We hope to get him back here again next year."

The two weeks' visit by Kelter was sanctioned by the provincial government and sponsored by the Kelowna Athletic Round Table in co-operation with the Kelowna Aquatic Association and the Kelowna Tennis Club.

There were no cases of insanity reported but the crazy dots at the golf course last Wednesday evening drew the best mid-week crowd yet. In all 46 persons turned out for the four-side one-club medley, but only 40 could take part—two more were needed.

Tops at the goofy golf was the team made of Mrs. Jack Kennedy, Mrs. Chris Reid, Chris Reid and Harold Brynjolson, who toured the course in 51. All received golf balls for prizes.

Coming in at the tail end was the team of Mr. and Mrs. P. Meek and Mr. and Mrs. G. Tippet, of Wye. Booklets on golf instructions and rules were their rewards.

GOOD CATCH: SUMMERLAND—Albert Radomski has evidently found the secret of the hook and the place to drop it, in order to get the big ones in Lake Okanagan. Recently he came home with twin catches, a pair of beautiful eight-pound Kamloops caught that afternoon.

The week before he got a 13-pounder the same way and he has no objection to telling the spot in which he got them. Others are trying his method.

WITH MERCURY 114

The New Car in the Low-Priced Field

Lively pick-up-and-go... dashing good looks... comfort, roadability, handling ease... these are some of the reasons you'll really "step lively" with Mercury 114.

That 100-horsepower, V-type, 8-cylinder Mercury engine is "rarin' to go." Smooth, quick stops with over-sized self-centering hydraulic brakes. Two-way stabilizers for roadability and handling ease.

Beauty too, outside and in. Long, low lines. A gleaming front with real style. Luxurious mohair or broadcloth upholstery. Distinctive instrument panel in lustrous plastic and metal trim. Handsome two-spoke steering wheel.

And with all these features, Mercury 114 is priced in the lowest bracket. So plan for the day when you'll sit in the driver's seat and "step lively" with Mercury 114.

be awarded a brand new cup donated this year. Coach Bill Treadgold reported the water was calm and the whole trip, in spite of the trials they had to go through, was "well worth while."

Loss Doubles
In the doubles, Ray Bostock and Keith Duggan were doing fine until they fouled a snag. Vancouver won the doubles handily, but the local doubles team has promised to give a good account of itself when it comes up against the same team in the Kelowna Regatta August 5 and 6.
Both Victoria and Vancouver fours are reported as finding it hard to believe they were beaten by a Kelowna squad and are more determined than ever to show it was all a "fluke" when they come here for the Regatta. The victorious Kelowna crew isn't worried and believes it can whip the Coast squad anywhere. Observers, looking forward to one of the best rowing races in years.

2 MAYOR McGEER

Championships being held in Victoria on August 11 and 12, many other outstanding Canadian swimmers will be on hand to compete in the Kelowna Regatta before going on to Victoria in search of additional honors.
Directors have been holding weekly meetings for the past six weeks making arrangements for this year's two-day water show, and now that the home-stretch is in sight, additional meetings will be called to iron out the last minute snags.
Judging from the plans that have been made, the 41st running of the Regatta without a doubt will exceed all previous efforts.

KAMLOOPS—In one of those weird displays that pass for baseball whenever Enderby plays here, Legion overcame their inclination to imitate them a week ago Sunday and finally came out on the long end of a 30-10 score. Legion picked up 23 hits to Enderby's seven.

WORLD NEWS FLASHES

ordered the Java ports of Cheribon, Probolinggo and Bankoewangi opened immediately to normal trade in an effort to get great stores of captured raw materials moving to world markets. The Dutch announced they captured the rich Sumatra oil-fields town of Batokradja, 80 miles southwest of Palembang and important Docket Assam coal mines, 20 miles further to the south west.

NEAR MAJOR CALAMITY IN FIRE

DENVER—Fire department officials said a major disaster was narrowly averted last night when fire at the Rocky Mountain arsenal on the northeast edge of Denver scared chlorine gas storage tanks before it was brought under control. Fire Chief Ollie Feldman, who directed the Denver fire equipment, called to the scene to aid United States Army firefighters, said, "We would have been powerless if those tanks had exploded."

MILLING CAPACITY CUT TO 1/10th

BUFFALO, N.Y.—Approximately 400 grain processors struck at three more of Buffalo's six principal flour mills in walkouts that will reduce the production of the milling centre to one-tenth its 10,000,000-pound daily capacity.

NASCOPIE PASSENGERS RESCUED

OTTAWA—An official of the Department of Mines and Resources today said he had received a radio message from James Wright, department official who headed the Nascope's expedition, reporting that all the Nascope's stranded passengers have been taken aboard the icebreaker, N. B. McLean.

An earlier report this morning said the icebreaker was apparently lying low waiting for a break in the weather. It was reported to be shrouded in a thick fog and tossed by heavy southwest seas between Salisbury and Nottingham Islands, a short distance off Cape Dorset where the Nascope last week grounded in heavy weather.

ALL U.S. SUGAR CONTROLS END

WASHINGTON—The United States Agricultural Department announced the end of sugar rationing at 9 a.m. (P.D.T.) today because of the lack of funds to finance the program. This action ends rationing to industrial and institutional users. Rationing to housewives was ended two months ago.

RED ARMY LARGEST

SALEM, Ill.—General Jacob L. Devers, Chief of the United States Army ground forces, said today Russia has a bigger army than those of all other countries. In an address prepared for a reunion of soldiers and sailors, Devers deplored the actions of the group "which insists that we have no national security whatever."

Red Sox Clinch Playoff Position By Defeating Oliver Ball Team 11-4

OLIVER—The Kelowna-Oliver two-game "crocial" series is half over now, with Kelowna in and Oliver on the brink of elimination. Red Sox clinched a playoff position yesterday with their driving 11-4 win but you can bet your bottom dollar Oliver will be out to get that game back and get a seat on the playoff train when the two meet at Kelowna in the final league game next Sunday.

While Oliver is settling down for its game of games next Sunday, Kelowna ball fans are singing the praises of Dick Zaccarelli whose eight-hit job did the trick here for the Sox on Sunday. Zacc didn't have a worry-free time of it. He was in trouble in the second and fifth innings when Oliver scored its four runs, but his worries were just little ones compared to the headaches the Sox sluggers gave Oliver chucker, Red Coulter.

The Sox' familiar go-out-and-beat-em-right-from-the-start strategy was again usefully demonstrated. The first three men up in the first inning all scored on a combination of three hits a sacrifice and an Oliver error. There was no sun in the sky but the Sox had their own means of making the Old Sol shine.

Oliver put a damper on the Kelowna enthusiasm in the second when it got at Zaccarelli for three hits which combined with a pair of infield errors, tied up the game at 3-3. But that was only temporary.

In the vicious third, Kelowna jumped on Coulter with all its fury and Coulter temporarily was at sea as he gave up three bases on balls, and five hits. By the time he was able to retire the side the Sox had put up 11 men in front of him and scored seven runs. Dave Newton's triple was the big blow, driving in Eddie Keilbiski and Fred Kitch, who had walked and singled, respectively.

With two men on in the fifth, Harry Bray, clean-up batter for Oliver, drove in the final run for the Sox.

RUTLAND RALLY GROSS TAKE IS $1,000

Athletic Park Already Has Several Improvements As Result of Rally

RUTLAND—The Rutland Athletic Park has added several improvements, as a direct result of preparations for the Rally Day. The park now has a softball diamond with a back-stop, and a permanent refreshment booth has been erected.

The Board of Trade also added to the appearance of the field by putting in a new fence along the front. Posts for this were donated by Chris Shunter. Proceeds of the Rally Day, which grossed around $1,000, will be used for further improvements to the park. A new pump has now been installed, and the increased pressure this provides will enable grass to be grown on the baseball and softball fields, and speed the growth of trees.

Federation of Fruit & Vegetable Workers' Unions

Box 422,
Kelowna, B.C.

DEAR FELLOW WORKERS:—

There are many things that certain people are deliberately trying to confuse you on, to try and break the Fruit & Vegetable Workers' Unions. The idea of this bulletin is to try and give you a true picture of the Labor situation in the Okanagan Valley, and the authentic answers to some of your questions.

(1) The "Federation of Fruit & Vegetable Workers' Unions" is eleven local unions throughout the Okanagan Valley, federated for the purpose of promoting the general welfare of fruit and vegetable workers and to advance their financial, social, moral and intellectual interests by collective bargaining. The Executive Officers of our Federation are people working in this industry in different parts of the Valley, elected in a convention of Fruit and Vegetable Workers held in Kelowna, January 11th and 12th, 1947.

(2) The present contract you are working under was drawn up by all local unions of our Federation and was negotiated by elected representatives of all Unions. The contract went into effect on May 1st, 1947, and provides an increase from 54¢ per hour to 61¢ per hour for women and from 62¢ to 75¢ per hour for men with a 20% increase across the board on all other rates.

(3) The Fruit & Vegetable Workers' Unions are Certified by the Dept. of Labor in 28 plants in Okanagan Valley as the Certified Bargaining Agents for all employees, with more applications for certification pending at the present time in other organized plants. When a Union is certified by the Department of Labor an employer cannot recognize any other union by law. In recognizing and dealing with the Fruit & Vegetable Workers' Unions the employers are only abiding by the laws of Canada.

(4) The $1.50 dues that is deducted from your cheque once a month, we believe is fair and right, as all workers, when they are working, pay their fair share towards the maintenance of the Union. Mr. Justice I. C. Rand, a very prominent Canadian jurist stated, in handing down his decision on the dispute between the Ford Motor Company and the United Automobile Workers of America C.I.O.: "I consider it entirely equitable that all employees should require to shoulder their portion of the burden of expense for administering the law of their employment, the union contract; that they must take the burden along with the benefit". Out of the $1.50 deducted, 50¢ stays with the Local Union in your area to cover hall rents, etc., $1.00 goes to the Federations Central Office. This amount is used to pay Negotiating Committees, Executive Council and Executive Boards expenses. (This includes travelling expenses, hotels, meals and wages for time lost from work.) Affiliation fees to the Trade and Labor Congress of Canada and the Okanagan District Trades & Labor Council are paid by Central Office. The Central Office expenses are paid from this amount, also the Representatives and Stenographers' wages. Central bookkeeping is done in the Central Office, the books are audited by Chartered Accountants and audited Financial Statements are sent to all local Unions.

We invite you to join our Fruit & Vegetable Workers' Unions, we would sincerely like you as a member. If you are handed a card by anyone please read the entire card before signing, fill the card out yourself, don't sign it and leave it to someone else to fill out, it could be your death warrant. Remember you don't have to sign any card, but again we sincerely invite you to join the rest of the workers in the Valley, by becoming a member of the Fruit & Vegetable Workers' Union.
